January 2020 issue:

8th December 2019

This magazine, published by the Church in Westcott, is printed on Forest Stewardship Council (FSC) accredited paper from a sustainable source. The views expressed are those of the individual writers and do not necessarily reflect the views of the Church, Editor or Westcott residents.

FROM THE EDITOR

Well, we made it through another year, with both ups and downs making up the rich tapestry of life. The downs certainly make you think that life can be short, so we should do everything we can to make it good. That might be doing things you've never done before, making more time for friends and family, or doing more of the things you enjoy. Whatever you do, love your life!

In the run up to Christmas it's easy to lose sight of what's important and get caught up in rushing round and more shopping, but actually it's the people that make Christmas special, not the things. Be a good neighbour, as it can be lonely over Christmas for some people, so keep an eye on neighbours who might be on their own and would appreciate a visit. Make time for some of the events in this month's magazine and you'll be sure to see (or even make new) friends while doing it.

There is a huge choice of musical things, as you'd expect at this time of year (I do love a traditional carol concert) and make sure to get out and enjoy our countryside when you can, when you're not tucked up in front of the fire! There are lots of walks with the Mole Valley Ramblers, ranging from easy to more strenuous, so no excuses.

Merry Christmas one and all,

Cath

FINDING HOPE... SIMPLICITY, SILENCE ... GOD

How is it going? Are you de-stressing Christmas? I have to say I am feeling quite relaxed anticipating what I am often told must be "your busiest time of the year". The "secret" lies in simplifying, in seeking silence, and so finding God, and sure Hope that sustains and strengthens.

I have written over the last couple of years how Jenny and I have decluttered Christmas – "less cards, foods, gifts... stuff. Less going with cultural expectation." That is certainly what we are doing again in this season of festivities, and are aiming to do throughout the year. We have been helped, I am sure, by our decision not to fly and so, have enjoyed truly relaxing holidays in our beautiful country. Our recent break in Devon, for example, was glorious, even though the weather was terrible; we enjoyed the cosyness of a cottage, looking out at the howling elements over the sea, and fantastic coastal walks in gale-force winds and driving rain, covered from head to foot in waterproofs. As someone famously said, "There's no such thing as bad weather, just the wrong clothes".

Simplicity, Silence is where God is found. The writer Sara Maitland documented in "A Book of Silence", her journey from a life of noise, mega-sociability and activity, to a place where Silence is integral. She speaks of the riches she has found; in the Silence, she says she found "a positive presence", "not a void but a rich space" – she found God. She experienced not just quietness and peace – which are, of course, ephemeral - but "an interior dimension to silence, a sort of stillness of heart and mind".

Similarly Thomas Merton, the twentieth century saint, wrote of his own journey in "The Seven Storey Mountain" from hedonistic lifestyle to a sense of "coming home" when he became a monk; he writes of "the Silence that enfolded me, spoke to me, and spoke louder and more eloquently than any voice."

God is in the Silence. "How silently, how silently the wondrous gift is given" In the words of "O little town of Bethlehem". I hope and pray you will be able to know this in this great, glorious season of Christmas – declutter, simplify, come to our Church services to enjoy and celebrate but also as a focus of "centring" your life. Being centred in Silence, Simplicity... finding God and sure Hope.

A very happy Christmas and blessed New Year to all in Westcott and all friends of our Church

Crossness

We were very lucky with the weather on the morning of 10th October when the long-awaited visit to Crossness set off. We were headed for the Thames Marshes, on the outh side of the river near Erith – the point east of London where the true river meets the river estuary.

Our sympathies were with our excellent driver Matt who, having reached the South Bank had to steer his large coach-load through a major traffic snarl-up. The activities of the environmentalists “Extinction Rebellion” had caused this, and environmental matters turned out to be the theme for our day.

Sir Joseph Bazalgette

Most of us were looking forward to seeing the enormous cast iron remains of Sir Joseph Bazalgette's (1819-91) sewage pumping station.

We'd seen pictures and knew it to be enormous, a flamboyant example of Victorian pomp; grandiose and extravagant, a culmination of the power of the Age of Steam. We would see the pumps preserved and re-painted by the current volunteer restorers exactly matching the original vibrant reds, greens and blues, a showy and amazing extravaganza of Victorian self-confidence.

Amazingly the trip turned out to be so much more. It took us right through the city's sanitation from medieval times to the present day.

We began with a quick walk around some lanes in the old city area where sanitation before the nineteenth century consisted simply of cess pits from which 'night soil men' carted away solid material to be spread on the surrounding market garden areas, while all liquid flowed by natural drainage down the middle of streets into streams, then tributaries, and so to the Thames. This meant that the roads were effectively the sewers.

One lane we walked along had “urine deflectors” installed along a wall to stop pedestrians peeing on the walls of that property. “Move along to the next lane!" they seemed to say.

Okay for several centuries but the increasing popularity of flush toilets which had been a highlight of the Great Exhibition of 1851 had had the unfortunate result of overloading the old system, culminating just seven years later in The Great Stink.

The increased quantity of water they generated was too much for the ancient cess pits, their use had to be prohibited and some rudimentary drains were constructed. But in hot weather the smell was intolerable even out of the City away at Westminster, and since at that time people believed that disease was carried by a "miasma" along with foul air Parliament at last took action.

The necessary money was allocated and Bazalgette, as Chief Engineer of London's new Metropolitan Board of Works, designed a completely new drainage system which culminated in very large pipework much of it hidden under enormous new earthworks on both sides of the river - the Victoria, Albert and Chelsea embankments.

We took a boat from Westminster Pier and could picture the width of the river before these works were undertaken. It was high tide and in the watery October sun the unusual views, from the river, of many generations of city buildings were magnificent. There was little to be seen of the Thames Tideway development, due to open next year, which will at last supersede the Victorian system, but we knew it was in progress and later were shown some information about it.

In the old drainage system, gravity carried all the sewage far away eastward but that brought it so low that it was now below river level. It then had to be raised in order for the twice-daily tides to swirl it a way to sea. Hence the need downstream for a Pumping Station. Since all his other pipework was underground Bazalgette made sure the Board of Works had something magnificent to show above ground, so he made this building huge and imposing. It stood in what was otherwise an empty landscape making it a landmark for approaching shipping. Thus it became known as the Cathedral of Sewage.

Cathedral of Sewage

The building and engineering remains have been saved for us to enjoy and are now solely dependent upon volunteer efforts for their restoration and maintenance. The pumps are run occasionally on Open Days but we chose to go at a quieter time when we could have the expert attention of the guides, and also the advantage of particularly efficient organisation through 'City and Village Tours' for all the London-based part of the trip.

The U3A team of course supervised everything perfectly and they are to be congratulated and thanked for a particularly good "day out".

So nowadays? The current processing plant can be seen below a simple steel roofline. It all conforms to modern standards. After a spell in settlement tanks solid material is incinerated through a sand bed at a very high temp and the ash used in the manufacture of commercially viable building blocks, while the liquid part is treated aerobically to remove all bacterial activity and released into the Thames – the quality of which it actually helps to improve.

Although I say it myself, but based on members' feedback to me, the illustrated presentation about Bonfires and Fireworks celebrations around the world, went like a rocket!

I spent many hours trawling the internet to find traditional Guy Fawkes reports, the history thereof and that of gunpowder, then on to weird and bizarre celebrations that last several days, as well as the more peaceful

This month's article has a bit of a safety theme to it after residents raised issues at the AGM in October.

Emergency Services – access in rural villages

Assistant Group Commander Ian Ray has addressed the specific concern about access for emergency services by assuring residents that the fire service will get to emergency calls whatever the circumstances, moving obstructions - if necessary by force, - but not before attempting to do so with the owners' permission.

The fire service has checked all the roads in Westcott, and, with the exception of Parsonage Lane, has confirmed that their regular Fire Engines can access all roads. Where there are width restrictions (as in the case of Parsonage Lane) smaller tenders are used; Assistant Commander Ray is more than happy to come and talk at an open meeting about this if you as residents would like this to happen.

If you want to learn a bit more about Fire Safety then go to www.surrey-fire.gov.uk where you will find lots of information. You can also arrange a free Safe and Well Visit from the Fire Service by going online at Request a Safe and Well Visit or by calling free on 0800 085 0767

Speeding and Noise

After the AGM, Nick Lund (WVA Highways lead) and I set up a small working group to address this issue. This followed my attendance at a number of Surrey County Highways Working Group meetings, which have failed to find any practical solutions in the last 18 months. Our first meeting was held on 11th November where we looked at various pieces of information - and started to identify practical and realistic changes which could be made to address a problem which is shared by all villages along the A25.

Here are three interesting facts which have come from two speed surveys carried out at either end of the village between 8th and 15th June 2018.

- 87% of vehicles leaving Westcott at the brow of the hill opposite Westcott House heading into Dorking were travelling in excess of the 30mph limit
- 50% of those vehicles were travelling in excess of 36mph and 15% in excess of 41mph – but in one case, a vehicle was recorded at over 90mph!!

- Almost 50% of vehicles leaving the village opposite the church, heading toward Guildford, were travelling in excess of the 30mph limit and the highest recorded speed here during the survey was 67mph.

The Highways team and the police both work on the basis of average speeds and as a result have said that the recordings are within their parameters of acceptable speed limits. The WVA's contention is that the average speed figures mask some very dangerous driving by around 5% of drivers – in numerical terms this was around 1500 vehicles during the 8 days of the survey – equivalent to almost 200 vehicles per day.

Casual observations at both locations would confirm these statistics – and it only takes one of those drivers to cause a very serious accident.

If you are concerned about speeding through the village then here are some email addresses to write to voicing those concerns:

We are working towards disbanding the “old” Village Association and establishing the “new” WVA as the operating body; both are in existence and there will be a seamless transition from the old to the new.

New standing orders will need to be set up by residents for their subscriptions when the new WVA has its bank account, but we will write to everyone explaining what needs to be done.

Open Meeting – 12th December 2019 CANCELLED

It was most inconsiderate of the Government to call a General Election on the date of our next Open Meeting - as a result of which we have decided to cancel our event and let you relax and await the outcome of the polls!!

As it happens, the open meeting was arranged to coincide with discussions on the Future Mole Valley Planning consultations but these have been deferred until the new year. We also planned to discuss the future of the Prudential Ride London, but again the County Council has committed to a formal consultation on the future of the race after the last one under the present agreement is run next year.

The next Open Meeting will therefore be on THURSDAY 5th MARCH 2020.

As always, you are invited to write to me on issues which concern you, and the WVA will do their best to address them.

Tickets £7.50, Raising funds for The Concert Club

*The Ladybirds Choir warmly invites you to their Christmas Concert, as usual there will be a variety of musical styles on offer ranging from traditional carols such as Away In A Manger and the exquisite O Holy Night to more light-hearted songs like It's Beginning To Look A Lot Like Christmas.*

*As a special treat the choir will be joined by Fiona Lebby and Alison Hopper, who will both add the dulcet tones of their violins to Elgar's beautiful and evocative song The Snow.*

*Tea and mince pies will be served after the performance. The Concert Club, originally called The Jane Ross Club, was set up over fifty years ago and provides monthly social events on Wednesday evenings for visually impaired adults and the elderly. Members meet in Leatherhead Parish Church Hall for an evening of chat, laughter, home-made cake and live entertainment. For many, this provides much-needed relief from loneliness and isolation.*

Tickets are available on the door or in advance from Jenny on 01737 843662.

THE DISTRICT COUNCILLOR WRITES...

Season's Greetings

At this time of year, people are looking forward to catching up with friends and family over the festive period. But that opportunity isn't always there for everyone and I want to take this opportunity to encourage everyone in the village to try something different this year.

Is there someone in the village that you haven't seen for a while? Maybe someone you used to be in a club or society with? Maybe a previous work colleague or classmate? Or simply someone that you might have seen previously in and around the village?

If you can think of someone then why not take the opportunity of the season to go and knock on their door. Perhaps when out delivering Christmas Cards, rather than just dropping it through the door, take the time to knock and have a chat. It would be a great way to get the village talking to each other and to check that folks are ok.

According to some research, it might be the only conversation that someone has that day or even that week. And it will cost you just a few minutes in your busy Christmas schedule.

Stay Well This Winter

The leaves are falling from the trees, the clocks have changed and we are scraping ice off the car in the morning – winter is definitely here. So it is time for my annual plea to look after yourself and those around you.

The arrival of the colder weather means we need to look after our health. Over the next few months we're going to be surrounded by coughs and colds, while some people will succumb to the dreaded flu. So, what can we do to protect ourselves and those around us from the worst of the winter bugs?

- Have a flu vaccination - many children, people over 65, pregnant women and people at risk due to their long term health conditions can still receive a free flu vaccination. I have had mine – have you had yours?
- Get help early - if you feel like you're coming down with something, even if it's just a cough or a cold, don't wait until it gets worse. At the first signs of illness, go and see a pharmacist – the sooner you act on advice the better.

- Call 111 for help – rather than heading to A&E, please try calling 111 – the NHS non-emergency number - if you urgently need medical help or advice but it's not a life-threatening situation. They can also help you get a GP appointment at a time to suit you. Much better than waiting a few hours in an Emergency Department.

- Stay warm – keep your home warm, at a minimum of 18°C, as breathing in cold air can increase the risk of chest infections. The Healthy Surrey website has details of organisations who can help with the cost of heating. You can wrap up too, remembering that several thin layers of clothes is more effective at keeping you warm.

- Take care of yourself, and each other - wear shoes with a good grip, to prevent falls and trips; and pop in to see your neighbours, particularly if they're vulnerable, as they might need your help.

Taking these steps will help protect you from becoming ill, or help you to recover without adding to pressures on GP surgeries and hospitals over the winter months. For more information

One tree for every Surrey resident

As part of Surrey's greener future, Surrey County Council launched an exciting new project to plant a new tree for every Surrey resident by 2030.

Trees have a big part to play in the reduction of greenhouse gases. They purify the air we breathe, filter the water we drink, provide a home for wildlife and improve the local environment. Planting these trees are part of our commitment to tackle climate change in Surrey, and the County Council are planning to plant them in all our towns, villages and rural areas over the coming years.

The first of 1.2 million trees were planted at the Surrey Hills Wood Fair in Cranleigh. Tillhill Forestry are working in partnership with Surrey County Council and gave one tree for every family to Westcott as a community is starting to do more to play our part to tackle climate change.

Over the years of writing for this magazine, a number of mystery trees have been featured from around our village. So how about bringing these ideas together for 2020?

After the 1987 storm a number of trees were planted in the village and these are now over 30 years old. For 2020, Westcott could start a register of every new tree planted in the village during the year so that when these get to 2050 their 30th birthday can be celebrated together with their contribution to capturing the carbon from our village atmosphere.

If, on average, one in ten households in the village plant a new year in 2020, then 100 would be planted in total. Let's see if Westcott can get that far. Please let me know if you plant a tree for 2020.

“What good is the warmth of summer, without the cold of winter to give it sweetness.”

- John Steinbeck

Winter on the Hill

The Downs in Winter seem bleak and the glory of the flowery, butterfly filled summer seem like a distant memory. But without Winter how could we ever appreciate that first taste of warmth in the Spring sun?

Winter does provide us with some spectacular feasts for the eyes, from beautiful clear frosty mornings, bright scarlet Rose Hips to huge clumps of Mistletoe hanging in naked trees.

Rose Hips

In early Winter the fruits of our native Dog Rose are commonly to be seen spilling their rich scarlet colour upon barren hedgerows. Hips are an important food source for many birds during the winter, especially when the ground is too frozen to hunt worms or snails, and when there are few insects about.

They are eaten by fruit-eating birds such as Thrushes, Blackbirds, Redwing, Fieldfare and Waxwings, which then disperse the seeds in their droppings. Some birds, particularly finches, also eat the seeds.

Humans like them too! Rose Hips are a valuable source of vitamin C, containing as much as 20 times more vitamin C than oranges. They are also an excellent antioxidant. Rose hip has long been used as an ingredient for herbal tea and enjoyed in syrups, jellies, and even wine.

Mistletoe

High above, in branches of oak, hawthorn, poplar and apple trees, mistletoe may be found. It never grows on the ground and is semi-parasitic. Like many plants, it produces its own food using photosynthesis, but it also extracts minerals and water from a host tree. Delightfully, mistletoe is commonly spread by birds.

The seeds inside are coated in a sticky substance which sticks to the beaks of birds feeding on the fruit. They either wipe the substance off on a branch or eat it and excrete it on trees in their droppings. The gluey pulp around the seed hardens and fastens the seed in place. As the new mistletoe plant grows, the roots penetrate the bark and start to take water and nutrients from the tree.

In the UK, the tradition of kissing underneath the mistletoe dates back to the 1700s but the Victorians continued the tradition of kissing under the mistletoe as it was thought to symbolise fertility and romance.

The scientific name of this white berry can translate as "white goo". Local names include Churchman's Greeting, Kiss-and-go, Masslin, Misle and Mislin-Bush.

The ancient Greeks used mistletoe for medicine as a pain reliever and for conditions such as ulcers.

It contains a poisonous protein called phoratoxin, which if consumed can cause drowsiness, blurred vision, diarrhoea, vomiting and seizures. It is also poisonous to animals so make sure your pets don't consume it. Despite this, mistletoe is a good food source for wildlife, with birds eating the berries and bees, butterflies and other insects consuming the nectar.

As the Autumn term draws to a close we look back on a number of inspiring workshops and celebrations. These included a Victorian Workshop, Harvest Services, Indian Workshop, Nativities, Christmas church services and our first class assembly of the year.

It has been lovely to welcome so many prospective parents to our open mornings. Remember the closing date is the 15th January 2020, for primary school applications.

Below are some of our highlights from the remainder of the Autumn term:

Introduction from our Head boy and girl.

Our names are Xander and Natalia and we are the new Head Boy and Girl. We were chosen by the members of staff based on our time in this school. We were overjoyed from the moment that the decision was made. This year, we would like to achieve being more environmentally friendly in our school. We are very proud to take part in school events such as, football for boys and girls and cross country. Upcoming events consist of a netball tournament and the creative Roar project, where year 6 present their own inventions to members of Cranleigh Lions in the hope to win the competition. At both Surrey Hills All Saints sites, Westcott and Abinger, we take part in our annual sports day and both experience exciting school trips. Throughout many years this school has been supporting many local and worldwide charities such as the Royal British Legion, David Shepherd wildlife foundation and Sight for Surrey. We plan to continue this charity work this year.

Years 1 and 2 Trip Victorian Workshop

On Monday 7th October we had a wonderful time participating in a Victorian workshop, below are some quotes from the children regarding the session.

- “Our classroom was turned into a Victorian classroom where the teacher was called Ma’am.” - Zach W
- “We spent time being Victorian. We played games with hoops and skipping ropes.” - April
- “It was funny when Bethany had the back straighter.” - Violet D
- “In Victorian times children were caned by a strict teacher.” - Flo

Indian Workshop Phase 3 and 4

On Thursday 7th November, children in Squirrels, Hedgehogs and Rabbits class had a fabulous introduction to the new learning theme ‘What is it like to live there?’ During the half term, leading up to Christmas, we explored habitats in science, created classification keys for both animals and habitats and understood how and why habitats change.

We have set our eyes on India, and the children were invited to come to school dressed in traditional Indian clothing or clothes inspired by Indian colours, textiles and fabrics.

During the day, we painted Diya bowls which are small bowls used in the celebration of Divali.

We enjoyed listening to traditional Indian tales including that of Rama and Sita and in the afternoon learned some Bollywood dancing moves.

The children had an immensely enjoyable time and raised questions based on the learning theme.

Harvest Festival

In October we celebrated Harvest with church services at both Abinger and Westcott. The services allowed us to celebrate God's goodness in creation, be thankful for all we have and to remember those in less fortunate situations.

We collected food donations, kindly provided by our parents, which have gone to Dorking Area Foodbank. Thank you.

Sporting Events

We have participated in a number of sporting events this term, including two cross country competitions and three football tournaments. We are delighted to be having great success in the Cross Country events and due to many excellent individual performances are currently in first place overall. The competition will continue in the New Year.

DORKING MUSEUM

Dorking Museum offers seasonal greetings to all readers and to the supporters and friends of the Museum. If you are in the town, why not drop into our shop for some Dorking themed cards, books or gifts? Or get away from the season's rushing around and take a leisurely browse around the Museum – there is always plenty to see and to find out about the heritage of our beautiful area.

Please note that the Museum will be closed over the main Christmas/New Year period, closing on December 21st and re-opening on January 4th.

Our current exhibition, 'You, Me and Those Who Came Before', presented in conjunction with art psychotherapist Sophia Cowx, explores Dorking's response to past refugee crises, covering more than two eventful centuries, right up to the support offered to refugees in this decade. Sophia offers an artistic exploration of the emergence of the poppy symbol 100 years ago as a creative response to the trauma of the First World War, and examines the poppy's connections with healing over the centuries.

Age of the dinosaurs: The Museum's 'prehistoric' section, with its dinosaur fossils, has always been a particular visitor favourite and has now been supplemented with a new animated display that demonstrates how a pliosaur would have propelled itself through the water in the Cretaceous period between 100 million and 65 million years ago when these were early residents of the Dorking area! 'Ava' the pliosaur is shown courtesy of the "Prince of Paleo-fiction", Max Hawthorne.

The Museum welcomes the two latest books published by the Museum's publishing arm, The Cockerel Press, on sale in the Museum shop:

- 'The Vanishing River of Box Hill': At the foot of Box Hill lies the extraordinary River Mole, which according to local folklore, occasionally vanishes without trace, only to reappear further downstream. Former BBC film maker Peter Brown explores the facts behind the folklore of this much-loved river and tells the fascinating tale of a curious scientist and his attempts to crack the mysteries of the Mole.

For centuries Dorking's growth above ground has been mirrored by excavations below it, leaving a unique legacy of historical sites that live on in the darkness below. This new book by journalist and Dorking Museum cave guide Sam Dawson tells their story, from a huge World War Two bunker at Deepdene, to a Roman well in the crypts of St Martin's – and a hundred virtually lost and forgotten cellars, follies and caves.

Book launch: The authors of both new books will talk about their subjects and their research at a gallery talk and book signing at the Museum on Thursday 5th December, 7pm, doors open 6.30pm. Tickets in advance on the website or on the door, £7 (includes a glass of Prosecco).

Seeking village pub photos: David Langford and Jim Docking who researched and created the hugely popular Museum exhibition and book 'Time Gentlemen, Please: The Story of Dorking Pubs' are now embarking on a follow-up book, expanding their research to the surrounding villages. They are looking for old pictures readers may have of any pubs in the areas of Westcott, or maybe Abinger, Betchworth, Brockham, Buckland, Capel, Charlwood, Headley, Holmwood, Leigh, Mickleham, Newdigate, Ockley and Wotton – especially pubs that have closed now – and any personal memories that go with the pictures.

Bricklayers Arms in Westcott

They are looking for old pictures, with date or approximate date if possible. If you have anything suitable, please mail to admin@dorkingmuseum.org.uk, or drop into the Museum, with information about photo credits.

The Museum is at 62 West Street, Dorking RH4 1BS. Open Thursday, Friday, Saturday 10am-4pm. Visit www.dorkingmuseum.org.uk. Enquiries to admin@dorkingmuseum.org.uk or phone 01306 876591.

This month at the nursery we've been making the most of the crisp, sunny autumn weather (and the wet days too!) and we always find time to venture outside to play and walk through the big woods in Abinger. At Forest School we have had fun watching and eating popcorn popping and marshmallows melting on our very own campfire. We've built mini dens for the fairies and created magical potions using mud, twigs, leaves and other natural resources we are lucky enough to have on our doorstep!

We love to make things to play with at nursery or take home to keep and have been busy moulding hedgehogs out of clay and creating sweet smelling lavender bags filled with freshly picked lavender from a local garden. We are so lucky to be supported by our wonderful community as two well-loved members have very kindly made some beautiful doll's clothes for us. Thank you once again!

When we want to feel cosy and warm we come inside to play and find ourselves making space rockets at the Space Station or taking a trip to the Farm Shop in our imaginatively themed role play areas. Cooking is also a big part of our Nursery life and this month we have made some yummy butternut squash soup and delicious jam tarts. No shop bought pastry in sight! We got stuck in and made our own using our fairy fingers, kneading and rolling as much as we could.

We celebrated this wonderful time of year by holding a Harvest Tea Party at the Evelyn Hall and welcomed grandparents, parents and members of the wider community to watch us singing some of our favourite autumn songs. It was enjoyed by all who came and everyone was treated to a cake or a scone baked and decorated by us.

This term we are looking into setting up a Toddler group at St. James' Church on a Monday morning for families in our community. We have compiled a questionnaire for our community members to help us gain some information to make this a successful venture. If you could take the time to complete the survey, we would be very grateful: <https://www.surveymonkey.co.uk/r/2XMQWYM>

During December the focus is naturally on Christmas music. The Dorking Choral Society will be joined by children from St Joseph's school for its Christmas concert. There will be music and carols for all the family to enjoy, with mince pies and mulled wine afterwards. The Ladybirds choir, conducted by Helena Twentyman, will present a variety of music, from traditional carols such as Away in a manger and O holy night, to light-hearted Christmas songs. The choir will be joined by two violinists for Elgar's beautiful and evocative The snow. There will be tea and mince pies after the performance, and the concert is held in aid of The Concert Club, a charity which provides social events for visually-impaired adults and the elderly.

At Leith Hill Place (the childhood home of Ralph Vaughan Williams) the National Trust is presenting a Christmas concert with the virtuoso trumpeter Crispian Steele-Perkins. Alongside some festive music there will also be an interesting exploration of historical brass instruments. Mulled wine and mince pies will be served in the interval.

The Dorking Halls has two screenings of that favourite Christmas ballet, Tchaikovsky's The Nutcracker, from the Bolshoi ballet in Moscow, and also two screenings of Delibes' Coppelia from the Royal Ballet in London. Have a very happy Christmas!

VISIT SURREY'S FINEST NURSERY

Just 5 mins from RHS Wisley

This year early December is set to be rather dominated by the upcoming General Election.

In a recent poll commissioned by environmental lawyers, Client Earth, seven out of ten people felt that swifter action is needed to address the climate emergency, with over half (54%) saying the climate crisis would influence their vote on December 12th.

Last month 11,000 scientists, from 153 nations, issued a statement warning of 'untold human suffering' due to the climate crisis without urgent radical transformations to our global society. These include leaving fossil fuels in the ground, halting the destruction of forests, reducing meat consumption, ending population growth and shifting economic goals away from focusing on GDP growth.

The good news is that transformative change, emphasising social, environmental and economic justice for all, promises much better human wellbeing and equality. This surely highlights the importance of finding out what measures our election candidates and parties propose for acting now on the climate crisis, before we cast our vote.

Whatever the result of the election, it is clear that we all need to take responsibility for doing whatever we are each able to do, to be the change we would like to see in the world. At our Eco Café in November people provided plenty of ideas and inspiration on how to have a 'green' Christmas, which we've shared on the following pages. If you have other eco tips or pictures of your eco crafts and gifts you'd like to share, please send them via email to ecochallengewestcott@gmail.com

Wishing everyone a peaceful and happy Christmas from the Eco Challenge Westcott Team

Tips for a 'green' Christmas

There were plenty of ideas shared at November's Eco Café for reducing, reusing, repurposing and recycling at Christmas:

Christmas cards Avoid glittery cards which cannot be recycled and look for cards made from recycled paper. Reduce the number you send by creating a communal Christmas card displayed in your workplace/meeting place for everyone to share their Christmas messages.

Gift wrap Plain brown paper can be decorated using prints or reuse newspaper/old magazines decorated with fabric ribbon. Furoshiki is a traditional Japanese way of wrapping presents in fabric (look on Youtube for guidance).

Decorations Simple paper chains made from scrap paper; pine cones; dried orange slices; greenery gathered from outdoors; baubles made from decorated walnuts!

Crackers Make crackers from reused gift wrap or reusable crackers that come apart at the middle (you can buy cracker snaps).

Christmas trees Choose a locally grown tree. Living trees should be displayed in a cool room and should not be kept inside for more than 12 days. These can be grown on in pots, moving to a bigger pot annually, until they reach the maximum size that can comfortably be moved.

Food Home-cooked treats cut down on packaging, for Christmas leftover recipes try BBC Good Food website; if making pavlova, ensure egg yolks are not wasted by making a trifle too! Jo and Lauren kindly shared advice on how to make bees wax wraps, to use for covering leftovers or to wrap edible Christmas gifts in! Although simple to make, it can be hot and messy work – if you visited the Westcott Christmas Craft Fair you may have been lucky enough to buy one ready-made from their stall!

Thanks, too, to Hannah, Ian, Libby, Martha, Judith, James, Debbie and Yvonne for sharing all these ideas.

The Climate & Ecological Crisis - Local issues

The recent government announcement of a 'moratorium' on fracking is a great victory for those who have undertaken years of campaigning and frontline resistance from communities in places such as Preston New Road in Lancashire. However, this does not directly affect plans for drilling for oil at Horse Hill, Horley near Gatwick.

The process likely to be used to extract the oil in Surrey is 'acidisation' – a 'stimulation technique' which uses high concentrations of chemicals to dissolve channels through limestone or sandstone, to release the oil trapped in rock pores. Quite aside from concerns surrounding the incidence of earthquakes, the risks of contamination of surface and ground water from hazardous chemicals, and the industrialisation of the area, the simple fact is that to tackle the climate crisis fossil fuels need to be kept in the ground.

Despite having declared a Climate Emergency on 9th July this year, in September councillors, on Surrey County Councils planning committee, voted to allow a further four oil production wells and 20 years of oil production at Horse Hill.

In October, groups including the Weald Action Group and Extinction Rebellion groups from Dorking, Guildford and all over Surrey, came together as the Horse Hill Rebel Alliance to hold a peaceful protest at Horse Hill. The event included speeches from local councillors and Dr Emily Grossman, one of 1,500 scientists who have signed a declaration supporting civil disobedience protests that urge government action on the climate crisis.

Dr Grossman said: "The overwhelming scientific consensus is that we urgently need to move away from the use of fossil fuels and rapidly bring down greenhouse emissions if we are to avoid the most catastrophic impacts of climate change. Allowing 20 years' worth of oil extraction here in Surrey flies in the face of both local and national climate targets, and will cause not only a direct threat to our financial stability but also criminal damage towards our planet."

The Climate & Ecological Crisis - Local issues

What can I do?

Find out more about drilling at Horse Hill and other areas in Surrey, visit the Weald Action Group website www.wealdactiongroup.org.uk

Join a local group, such as Weald Action Group (above) or Extinction Rebellion Dorking (email: xrdorking@gmail.com)

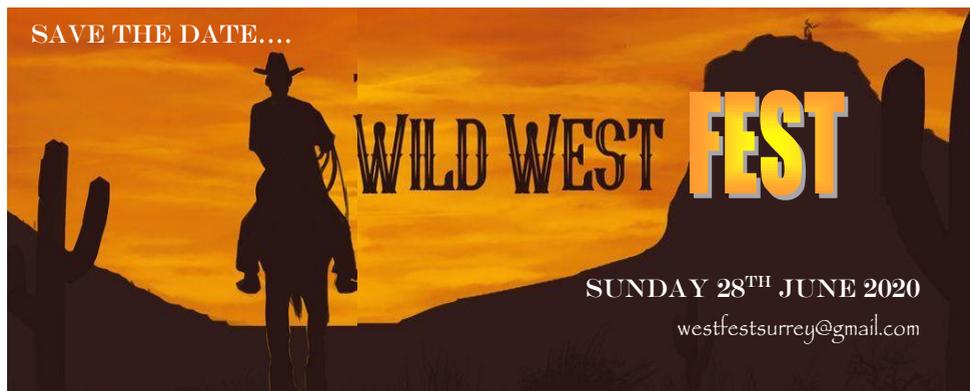

Support the legal challenge by a local campaigner to raise funds for a judicial review of Surrey County Council's decision to allow the expansion of oil drilling at Horse Hill (see Weald Action Group website)

Write to Surrey County Council to express your views at: County Hall, Penrhyn Road, Kingston Upon Thames, KT1 2DW. Our county councillor is Hazel Watson: email h.watson@surreycc.gov.uk

Help reduce reliance on fossil fuels:
Switch to a provider of 100% renewable energy: try Bulb, Ecotricity, Good Energy, Octopus, People's Energy
Switch to a bank which doesn't invest heavily in fossil fuels: try Cooperative, Metro, Nationwide, Triodos

Reduce your energy consumption:
for help take a look at Action Surrey's website www.actionsurrey.org
When possible walk, cycle, use public transport or car share.
